Residential

La Costa South, Carlsbad, CA

Some homes have a primary suite. This one has two, plus a wraparound deck that makes every sunset feel like the main event. Tucked in the hills of South La Costa Valley, 7619 Cortina Ct has been fully renovated. Blending warm modern coastal design with a floor plan that flexes to however you live: multigenerational family, remote-work household, or a home built for hosting. The main level is anchored by a vaulted great room and a floor-to-ceiling tiled fireplace that sets the tone the second you walk in. Luxury vinyl plank floors carry the eye straight out through to a curved deck that hugs the hillside and views that roll on toward La Costa and beyond. The kitchen keeps pace: light wood cabinetry, quartz countertops, a glazed tile backsplash, and a breakfast bar that turns cooking into a group activity. Upstairs, the primary suite is a quiet escape, a moody navy accent wall, a barn door leading into a spa-style bath finished in blue tile and brushed brass, with a walk-in glass shower built for unwinding. Downstairs is where this home sets itself apart: a second full primary suite with its own fireplace living room and a wet bar finished in green glazed tile with floating oak shelving. The setup for in-laws, adult kids, long-term guests, or the best home office you've ever had. Step outside and the lifestyle case makes itself. You're minutes from Omni La Costa Resort, a short drive to paddboarding and the hiking trails around Batiquitos Lagoon. This is what a full renovation, a smart floor plan, and a view like this add up to.
